

Meeting #4 – University of Toronto St. George Campus: Reviewing the Revised Secondary Plan

This fourth meeting in a series on a proposed new plan for the University of Toronto St George Campus and surrounding area, including Queen's Park and other Provincial government lands, will focus on reviewing the revised plan, including policies for parks and open spaces, heritage conservation, new development and mobility. City staff will use your feedback to help inform the development of the final plan.

The University will provide an overview of the revised proposal and City Planning staff will provide some preliminary comments. There will then be a chance for you to ask questions and provide feedback to City staff and the applicant.

Please join us at this important event and let us know your ideas about how the University should grow and change.

Date: April 5, 2018

Time: 6:30 p.m.

Place: Faculty of Social Work Building, 246 Bloor Street West, 5th Floor, Room SK548

Proposal

The University of Toronto has submitted an Official Plan Amendment application to establish a new University of Toronto St. George Campus Secondary Plan that would replace the existing Secondary Plan for the area. The purpose of the Secondary Plan is to provide a policy framework to manage change and guide new development in the area.
